

Will Dyson, 1917, 'Going up to the line near Vaux', inset, crayon and pencil on paper, 47 x 63.4 cm, Australian War Memorial.

Attention:

Writers, Students, Performers & Researchers

Students at Federation University Australia are invited to contribute writing, research or creative content for a specially developed blog hosted by the Gold Museum on Ballarat's World War 1 experience.

The content you produce, if selected, will be published on the blog as a community resource to help the people of Ballarat commemorate World War One.

The research that you undertake to develop your content will also help inform a documentary film to be produced about the WW1 experience in Ballarat.

For more information contact: Dr David Waldron, Building Room 226, Mt Helen Campus.

Ph: 03 5327 9710, d.waldron@federation.edu.au

<http://mow.windsky.com.au>